Anti-Saloon Leader Will Visit Maui

Dr. Purley A. Baker, National Superintendent Will Arrive Next Week to Attend Convention—First General Meeting in Territory

As already announced in these columns, the annual convention of the Anti-Saloon League of Hawaii on its new territorial basis will be held in the Kawaiahae Church, Honolulu, February 26-28. The national superintendent of the Anti-Saloon League of America, Dr. Purley A. Baker, will be present at this convention.

Dr. Baker will arrive in Honolulu next Monday and remain for three weeks on the Islands. He is an Ohioan by birth, and through his own persistent self-sacrificing efforts, having at one time taught school in order to make his own way and then becoming a law student in Columbus, he later entered the Christian ministry and rose in the ranks until he became pastor of a very large church in Cleveland. In 1903 he was appointed to succeed Dr. Howard H. Russell, who founded the League twenty-five years ago in Oberlin, Ohio.

During Dr. Baker's leadership, the League has grown to be an institution with 400 secretaries, 700 other employees and millions of members and sympathizers. It has local branches in all the States of the Union, and has put up a very strong and successful fight against the liquor interests. There are now fifteen States entirely dry, 56 millions of the population living in saloonless territory, and 80 per cent of the area of the United States wholly rid of the liquor traffic.

The local league of Hawaii has requested all churches to elect delegates or representatives to the annual convention and it is expected that there will be a large attendance. A great union mass meeting will be held Sunday evening, February 28, in the Opera House, Honolulu, at which Dr. Baker will speak, and possibly Bishop Hughes of the Methodist Church, and it may be Dr. Geo. Laughon of Hilo. In the afternoon of that day a procession of Lincoln-Lee Legion boys and girls of the public schools of Honolulu will take place, and a brief service held for their benefit as a rallying to the cause of temperance.

Before Dr. Baker returns to the Coast, he will visit the Islands of Maui and Hawaii, delivering addresses here and there, and possibly attending the Island conventions of the churches of the Hawaiian Board in their semi-annual conventions. Revs. Dodge and Bowdish have invited Dr. Baker to occupy their respective pulpits during his visit on Maui.

DR. RUSSEL'S CASE AGAIN CONTINUED.

Dr. Russel, of Hilo, against whom a charge is pending of reckless driving, was in Maui the first of the week when his case was called before Judge McKay on Monday. It was again continued. The Hilo dentist, while at the wheel of a new Buick automobile, several weeks ago, disputed the right of way on the Spreckelsville road with a mule, and the mule got decidedly the best of the encounter. A. Fernandez, Jr., of Paia, who had an artery in his wrist cut when the collision occurred, has about recovered.

WHOOPIING COUGH AT LAHAINA.

Quite an epidemic of whooping-cough has been raging in the Lahaina district among the school children for some weeks past, but with warmer weather it now seems to be abating. The schools are not closed on account of the disease, but on the contrary medicine is furnished the teachers, and the young coughers are dosed as occasion demands, and with better results than were they compelled to remain at home.

The dance last Saturday at the Paia Community House was an unusually pleasant affair. It was attended by a large number of persons from all parts of the island.

"Burning Daylight" is the name of the hero of one of the strongest Alaskan novels in recent years. Dramatized it is said to have lost none of its virile character. It is this play that the Ladies' Aid Society is giving in film form next Thursday night at the Wailuku Orpheum, in conjunction with other features that should make it one of the big successes of the year.

Two Popular Young Ladies Win Prizes

Miss Millie Meyer Gets Valley Isle Trip and Miss Libby Oliveira Carries Away Orpheum Prize.

The big interest in the local theaters this week centered in the prizes which both the Valley Isle Theater and the Wailuku Orpheum had offered. In the former play house the prize was won by Miss Millie Meyer, whose votes totaled 8142. Her nearest competitor, Miss Mary K. Hart, had but 4551; while the next in order, Tamano Yanagi, had 1912. The judges were: Dan T. Carey, M. R. Pereira and Arata Okazaki. Instead of making the trip to the Carnival, which this prize calls for, Miss Meyer has taken the $25 cash value, as it will be impossible for her to get away from her work at the present time.

Miss Oliveira Orpheum Winner.

Miss Libby Oliveira won the Carnival trip offered by the Wailuku Orpheum, or $50 cash. Through the aid of her friends she turned in a total of 1354 seat stubs, representing a total value of $223.15. Her nearest competitor was Edmund H. Hart who had 957 ticket stubs, representing $129.92 in seats.

Noted Inventor Dead—Was Known to Local People

More than ordinary interest attaches to the news of the death of Charles Martin Hall, the discoverer of the process for manufacturing aluminum on a commercial scale, on account of the fact that the noted inventor and chemist was well known to quite a number of Hawaii people. Mrs. D. H. Case, of Wailuku, was formerly a neighbor of his in Oberlin, Ohio. The death occurred in the latter part of January, in Daytona, Florida, according to advices just received here.

Charles Martin Hall was a very wealthy man at the time of his death, having made his fortune from his invention. Among other bequests he left $1,500,000 to Oberlin College.

Although he was graduated at Oberlin College, in Ohio, with a classical course degree, Mr. Hall was attracted to the study of chemistry by finding an old textbook in which the commercial possibilities of aluminum were detailed if the cost of manufacture could be reduced from $80 to $25 a pound. He went to work experimenting, and in 1886 discovered the process by which pure aluminum is manufactured at eighteen cents a pound.

J. C. Foss, Jr., $2945, the work to be completed within seventy days; A. A. Wilson, $3390 and $2112, sixty days, and William Cullen, $4900 and $3950, ninety days.

WILL BREAK PACIFIC RECORDS.

The big new steamer Great Northern, fresh from the Atlantic, which is due in Honolulu tomorrow, will have smashed all record for speed between the Coast and the Islands, when she arrives. She sailed from Los Angeles on Wednesday, and is scheduled to make the distance of about 2100 miles in a trifle over four days. After returning her excursionists to the Coast the Great Northern will be put into the regular service between Seattle and San Francisco.

CAT HUNTING

Exciting New Sport Discovered Accidentally By Two Maui Sportsmen.

When your dogs flush a husky tom-cat instead of a pheasant, and the cat mistakes a mule's off hind leg for a tree, you have a situation that spells action in very large letters. Ed. Deinert and W. A. Clark were the two sportsmen who had this exciting experience recently. The mule in the comedy act was ridden by a young Portuguese boy at the time, who was holding the hunters' horses, while they worked forward on the beautiful "point" their dogs were making. The story doesn't sound as well as when Ed. Deinert tells it, but it's a good story. The boy on the mule had an interesting few moments but wasn't much hurt, and the cat was finally killed.

ONE ON THE SENATOR

Something of a joke is being told on Senator H. A. Baldwin, though the authenticity of the story is not vouched for. The Senator had spent a bad quarter of an hour, so the story goes, in trying to do some telephoning from his home in Hamakua. But the demon which is especially assigned to wreck sweet dispositions, through the medium of the telephone, was on the job with both feet that morning and chuckled with unholy glee when the Maui solon slammed up the receiver with some slight excess of energy, after his fruitless endeavor.

Arriving at his office in Paia, Mr. Baldwin gently mentioned to Head Bookkeeper Nicholl his difficulties with the phone, and made a few soft comments concerning the system and its management. He also faintly would know the name of the president of the telephone company in order that he might venture a few timely suggestions.

"Well," replied Nicholl, "the president of the Maui Telephone Company is H. H. Baldwin."

And President Baldwin, of the Maui Agricultural Company, retired to his private office to discuss with President Baldwin, of the Telephone Company, the matter that was close to the heart of both.

THE ALASKANS.

According to the government statistics the natives of Alaska are about 25,000 in number and they are spread over more than 350,000 of the 590,000 square miles of territory. The small settlements extend along about 10,000 miles of coast and on both sides of the Yukon river and its tributaries, for a distance of more than 2,500 miles. One of the supervision districts contains a full 100,000 square miles, the others average more than 65,000 square miles each. Of the natives of Alaska, approximately 11,000 belong to six tribes of Indians in southeastern and southern Alaska, and in the valley of the Yukon. About 11,000 are Eskimos on the western and northwestern coasts, along the Bering sea, the Bering straits and the Arctic ocean. Sometimes more than 3,000 are Aleuts and mixed races through the Aleutian Islands.—Christian Herald.

Scrupulous.

"I guess we'd better fix up our advertisement for summer boarders right now," said Farmer Cornet. "What for?" asked his wife. "I don't want to write anything that ain't truthful. There ain't any mosquitoes now an' the nights are always cool."

Crab Soup.

Heat one quart of milk, add a good piece of butter, salt and pepper and the meat of one large crab (or 1 tin of crab). Thicken with a tablespoonful of finely powdered cracker crumbs and serve.

Cherry Salad.

Crack and blanch some hazel nuts. Drain the juice from a tin of preserved cherries (dark ones preferred). Remove the stones from the cherries and replace them with blanched nuts. Heap on lettuce leaves and serve with mayonnaise dressing.

Quick Sally Lunn.

Into a bowl break one egg, add one tablespoon sugar, one cup milk, two cups flour, two teaspoons baking powder (rounding ones), and one tablespoon melted butter. Stir all together thoroughly, pour into buttered pan and bake.

Dish of Fish.

Three pounds of any white fish boiled and chopped fine—I use instead 2 tins of Tuna fish—chop them fine and season with pepper, salt and grated rind and juice of a lemon. Boil three sliced onions in one quart of milk until tender. Cream three tablespoons of flour and one-fourth pound butter. Pour the milk through a strainer on to the flour and butter and return to the boiler to thicken. On the platter put a layer of the seasoned fish, then fish and so on until all is used, having the dressing on top. Sprinkle with fine cracker crumbs, brown in the oven and serve with pieces of lemon arranged around the platter.

Apple Lemon Cake.

Two cups sugar, one-half cup butter, one half cup cold water, two and one-half cups flour, five eggs, leaving out the whites of three, two and one-half teaspoons baking powder. Bake in layer tins.

For Filling.—Peel and grate three large apples, add grated rind and juice of one lemon and one cup granulated sugar. Stir and spread between the layers at once. The extra white may be used to frost the top.

Puffed Eggs for Invalids.

Beat the white of an egg stiff. Put in a cup or small bowl, making a slight depression in the middle into which put the unbroken yolk of the egg. Set in the oven and bake until the white is "set". Serve at once.

Frijoles a la Sierra.

Pick and wash one pint of Bayo beans. Cover with cold water and let soak over night. In the morning place over the fire and boil till tender. When ready to use them add salt and pepper and while they are heating: Slice and fry six slices of fat bacon. As the bacon browns add the slices to the beans. In the fat fry three or four sliced onions, and as many sweet peppers, also sliced. When tender add all to the beans. Stir well and serve.
